DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2, 7, 8, 10-13, 18 and 19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mueller et al (USPN 6,435,947). Mueller et al discloses a method of manufacturing a semiconductor wafer comprising polishing a surface of a semiconductor wafer with a polishing member with a fluid interposed between the polishing member and the surface of the semiconductor wafer while performing light irradiation onto the polishing member, the polishing member comprising photocatalyst particles that exhibit photocatalysis on the light irradiation and a support material that supports the photocatalyst particles, inorganic particles that are support by the support material together with the photocatalyst particles and contain one material including alumina, silica or ceria, wherein the photocatalyst particles contain one compound including titanium oxide or niobium oxide, wherein particles diameter of the photocatalyst particles is less than 1 micron, wherein the fluid consists of essentially of water, wherein the light irradiation includes irradiating the polishing member with ultraviolet light (note col. 3, lines 50-62, col. 6, line 42 to col. 13, line 67, col. 13, line 60 to col. 18, line 33).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 9 and 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mueller et al (USPN 6,435,947). Mueller et al discloses the claimed invention as described above, however, Mueller et al does not disclose that a concentration of the photocatalyst particles in the member falls within a range of 10% by volume to 90% by volume. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to select a concentration of the photocatalyst particles in the member falls within a range of 10% by volume to 90% by volume, since it has been held that where the general conditions of a claim is disclosed in the prior art, discovering the optimum range or workable range involved only routine skill in the art. In re Aller, 105 USPQ 233.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 3-6 and 14-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Grumbine et al is cited to show a polishing pad including catalyst particles.
